

BENEFITS TO BEING A YOUTH VOICE REPRESENTATIVE

Young people between 13 and 19 can engage voluntarily with the award winning services offered by Stroud District Council's friendly and professional youth work team.

I'm interested in becoming a youth voice representative, but what are the benefits?

As a youth voice representative you will typically work in small groups, with a variety of opportunities to collectively influence changes in the following:

- The services you and other young people receive
- The communities where you and other young people live

Plus...

Benefits to your own personal, social and educational development, which can be broadly described as:

- Improvement to Communication skills
- Increases in Confidence and connection with others
- Help with Planning and Problem Solving techniques
- Develop positive Relationships and improve Leadership skills
- Enhance your Creativity skills
- Develop greater Resilience and Determination
- Help with Managing Feelings of you and others

Other benefits to you also relate to the:
